22-year-old caught with deadly M75 military hand grenade

A crucial tip - off on 15 May led police to arrest a suspect and uncover an explosive and a firearm and ammunition in Ext 3, thanks to swift action and reliable intelligence.

Responding promptly, a coordinated operation was carried out by multiple SAPS units, including the Bomb Disposal Unit, K9 Unit, Forensic Services and Crime Prevention officers from various police stations. Upon arrival, the suspect was found in possession of the military-grade hand grenade, a firearm, and ammunition. He was arrested on the scene without incident. Orange Farm SAPS, station commander, Brigadier MJ Manamela, commended the team effort: "The dedication and professionalism displayed by our members ensured that the hand grenade was secured safely and did not detonate. Their teamwork saved lives."

Sergeant SJ Motsapi, Orange Farm SAPS communications officer, emphasized the importance of community cooperation: "This arrest highlights the success we can achieve when the community works together with police. We urge residents to continue reporting suspicious activity - every tip helps us make Orange Farm safer for all." Brigadier Manamela further noted the ongoing issue of illegal firearms in the area, stating: "These weapons are frequently used in violent crimes, including murders. Anyone found in possession of illegal arms will face the full might of the law." The suspect appeared in the Vereeniging Magistrate's Court soon, facing charges of possession of illegal explosives, a firearm and live ammunition. The M75 hand grenade is highly dangerous military - grade weapon designed for anti-personnel use. Effective kill radius: 12-18 meters. Injury radius: up to 30 - 50 meters, depending on the terrain and environment. Delay fuse: 3.5 to 4 seconds, giving minimal time to react once thrown. DA PR Cllr, Nonhlanhla Sifumba, told OFN: "The Democratic Alliance (DA) has raised alarm over the rising crime in Orange Farm, especially in Kanana Park and Poortjie. Stats show a shocking 91.7% increase in murders, 69 cases recorded between October and December 2024 making it the highest in Gauteng. The party has launched a petition demanding urgent action."

Go Turquoise Campaign for senior citizens a success

Gogo gets her blood pressure checked by a nurse as part of the health campaign at Arekopaneng Centre

Afrika Tikkun and Johannesburg Health District recently hosted a special Health Awareness Day at Arekopaneng Centre focusing on the well-being of elderly citizens.

Over 300 attendees gathered to access health services, education and emotional support. The event aimed to highlight elder abuse and promote healthy living for seniors. Activities kicked off with health talks in the sports hall and continued outdoors, where various organisations offered screenings and wellness resources. The central message urged communities to speak out against the abuse of elderly people, whether at home or in the broader society.

Partners such as Lawyers Against Abuse shared information about their free legal services for women, children and seniors, including help with protection orders. Healthcare workers and social workers from Region G were present, alongside stalls from organisations like Rhiza Babuyile, Cipla, Avbob and Assupol, offering vital support.

A dietician provided useful tips for managing diabetes and high blood pressure, stressing the benefits of green vegetables, fibre and daily walks. "This day was about reminding our elderly they are valued," said social worker Lungiswa Mbombo.

Afrika Tikkun pledged continued support for future initiatives promoting the rights and dignity of older people in the region.

GET HELP: LvA supports domestic violence victims in Orange Farm

Image: Omphile Moerane

At the heart of Orange Farm's Skills Centre, Lawyers Against Abuse (LvA) works tirelessly to support survivors of domestic and intimate partner violence.

Every day, they walk alongside those seeking safety and justice - many of them women and children - helping them take courageous steps to rebuild their lives.

One of the key ways LvA offers support is by helping clients obtain protection orders through the Domestic Violence Court.

This legal tool can be a vital first step in breaking the cycle of abuse. Importantly, LvA's services are completely free women in need of protection are welcomed with compassion and respect.

Junior legal officer, Omphile Moerane, told OFN "To date, we've assisted over 500 women in Orange Farm to apply for protection orders.

While not every client completes the process for various personal reasons, 97% of those who applied received interim protection orders. Of those who attended their final hearings, 79% were granted final protection orders."

But LvA's commitment goes beyond legal paperwork.

Their legal officers often accompany clients to open criminal cases and work closely with the police and other key stakeholders to ensure the ongoing safety of survivors and their children.

LvA urges Orange Farm residents to seek help and use the services available to them.

"Ending violence starts with action - and no one should face it alone," added Moerane.

Image: Lucky Niewenhout

CHANGE MAKERS: Sbusiso Jama, Sipheshile Jama, Lebohlang Lesedi and Simphiwe Ntombela

This Drieziek 1 NPO, is on a mission to uplift youth - including blind and visually impaired children - through cycling, digital skills, health programmes and education. The organisation runs several life - changing initiatives, such as tandem cycling for blind athletes, computer classes, wellness activities and training for young cyclists. "Our work is rooted in values like inclusion, empowerment, honesty, teamwork and excellence," said Lucky Niewenhout, programme director of Wheel Warriors. With a strong desire to reach even more young people, Wheel Warriors is calling on schools - particularly those without computer labs or sports facilities - to partner with them. "We believe every child deserves the opportunity to enjoy sport and learn new skills. By working with under resourced schools, we aim to boost access to digital learning and physical activity," said Niewenhout. Now, the organisation is appealing to the public for support. They need donations of bicycles, computers and other essentials to drive their mission forward. Their long - term dream is to build a dedicated sports and learning hub - a safe space where children can play, learn and develop critical life skills. However, their biggest hurdle remains access to land for this much - needed facility. With the right support, the vision of a brighter, healthier future for the youth of Orange Farm could soon be realised. To support this cause, call Niewenhout on 079 961 4844.

The final saw One+One crowned champions, taking home soccer kits, a trophy and gold medals.

Runners-up United Future Stars earned silver medals, kits and footballs. Outstanding players were: Mfanelo Mdlo - Goalkeeper, Blessing - Defender, Mpho - Top Goal Scorer, Gift Akung - Midfielder and Melusi - Player of the Tournament.

The tournament honoured the birth anniversary of P.R. Sarkar (1921-1990), founder of Ananda Marga, who championed unity and youth development. Around 700 young players participated, showcasing talent and discipline on the field. Organiser Dada Krishna, emphasised the event's role in building future champions and steering youth away from negative influences.

"It keeps our youngsters engaged," he said. The initiative aligns with Ananda Marga's mission to unlock inner potential, promote positive engagement and instill discipline among youth.

The event was made possible by Dada Krishna, Madam Faith Twala, Jabulani Bond, and Tizastar. Dada Mantra awarded prizes. Participants enjoyed biryani, fruits, juice and sweets - a perfect end to a celebration of sport, unity and youth empowerment.

Solly Mkhabela

A beacon of hope, leadership and possibility in Orange Farm

In a world that often feels uncertain, it is both refreshing and necessary to celebrate individuals who inspire hope and possibility.

One such figure is Solly Mkhabela - a visionary, community leader and an unwavering source of strength for Orange Farm. Many first met Mkhabela as an English teacher at Isikhumbuzo Secondary, where his love for language sparked a passion in young minds.

But his influence didn't stop at the chalkboard. With a natural ability to listen, lead and uplift, he has since grown into one of Orange Farm's most impactful changemakers. Solly Mkhabela foundation's Nobuntu Fatima, told OFN: "Mr Mkhabela reminds us that leadership begins with love for your people. He's proof that with compassion, vision and perseverance, you can uplift an entire community."

Guided by the principle that success means little if it doesn't impact others, Mkhabela has built a life centred on service.

Mkhabela's story is a call to action: for the youth to dream boldly, for business owners to build with purpose and for every individual to find power in service.

From founding schools across Orange Farm and nearby areas to investing in youth through sports - particularly soccer, a passion close to his heart - he has created opportunities where there were once barriers. His entrepreneurial spirit is just as inspiring. Through his ownership of supermarkets, bottle stores and entertainment venues, he has generated employment and dignity for many. For him, even the smallest opportunity can be life-changing.

But it is his generosity and compassion that truly set him apart. Whether it's helping families with funeral costs, offering bursaries to learners or distributing food parcels to the vulnerable, Mkhabela leads with a heart that never stops giving.

His leadership even stretches to the national stage, as a proud representative of South Africa in the leadership structures of the South African Football Association (SAFA) - another powerful reminder that great leaders can rise from humble beginnings.

He is living proof that you don't have to wait for opportunities - you can create them. From teacher to leader, entrepreneur to philanthropist, Mkhabela is more than a success story - he is Orange Farm's pride and a symbol of what's possible when passion meets purpose.
