ANC retains Orange Farm

Orange Farm Councillors, Ward 2' Jeannette Ramafikeng, Ward 1's Msingathi Mazibukwana, Ward 131's Makhosazana Ndlela, Ward 4's Simon Molefe, Ward 5's Mxolisi Ndzondo and Ward 3's Zachariah Mokhari look forward to another term in office

The African National Congress (ANC) has retained six ward councillor seats in Orange Farm following the 4 November local government elections, despite facing growing opposition support across the area.

The party secured victories in Wards 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 131, although its share of valid votes remained below 37% in every contest.

In Ward 1, Msingathi Mazibukwana retained the seat for the ANC with 32.68% of the vote, ahead of the Democratic Alliance (DA) on 18.34% and the uMkhonto weSizwe Party (MKP) on 15.06%.

Dimakatso Jeannette Ramafikeng won Ward 2 with 36.17%, narrowly defeating the DA, which secured 30%.

In Ward 3, Zacharia Mokoari emerged victorious with 35.77%, while the DA received 20.44% and MKP 13.22%.

Simon Butana Molefe secured Ward 4 for the ANC with 34.86%, followed by the DA on 18.69% and ActionSA on 15.53%.

Ward 5 was won by Claud Mxolisi Ndzondo, who received 33.04%, ahead of the DA's 26.51%.

In Ward 131, Makhosazana Cynthia Ndlela retained the seat with 27.07%. The South African Communist Party (SACP) narrowly edged the DA into third place by just three votes.

Although the ANC retained all six seats, the results reveal a fragmented political landscape, with most voters in each ward supporting candidates from other parties.

Attention now turns to service delivery, including persistent water shortages, electricity disruptions, deteriorating roads and housing challenges. For the elected councillors, the challenge will be translating electoral victories into measurable improvements for residents.

Intouch joins water crisis protest in Johannesburg

Protesters display placards outside Turbine Hall in Johannesburg, calling for urgent action to address ongoing water shortages in affected communities

Access to reliable water and accountability from authorities were among the key demands raised during a protest outside Johannesburg Water's head office at Turbine Hall on Monday, 2 November.

Intouch Youth Development and Community Justice, based in Orange Farm, joined the Gauteng WaterCan Movement alongside community leaders, activists and residents from across Johannesburg.

The protest called for urgent intervention and sustainable solutions to ongoing water shortages affecting townships and informal settlements.

A memorandum of demands was handed over, calling for meaningful action, transparency and long-term measures to address the crisis.

Intouch Spokesperson, Ronney Kapaso, told OFN that they stand in solidarity with affected communities, arguing that access to clean and safe water should not depend on where people live or their financial circumstances.

The organisation reaffirmed its commitment to community empowerment and social justice.

Region G ECD practitioners attend a three-day Maths and Science training workshop held from 26 to 28 October

The programme, held at Orange Farm Community Hall in Extension 2 from 26 to 28 October, reached 300 ECD principals, with 100 attending each day. Easy Durban-Style Chicken Samoosas

Ingredients
500g chicken OE MEATmince
1 tbsp cooking oil
1 medium onion, finely chopped
2 garlic cloves, crushed
1 tsp grated fresh ginger
2 tsp curry powder
1 tsp ground cumin
½ tsp salt, or to taste
1 green chilli, finely chopped
2 tbsp chopped fresh coriander
About 20 ready-made samoosa pastry strips, thawed according to the packet
Cooking oil for frying
To seal:
3 tbsp flour
2-3 tbsp water

Method
1. Heat 1 tablespoon of oil in a pan. Add half the onion and cook for 3 minutes until softened.
2. Add the garlic, ginger, curry powder and cumin. Stir for 30 seconds.
3. Add the chicken mince and salt. Cook for 8-10 minutes, stirring and breaking up any lumps, until cooked through. Let any liquid cook away - the filling should be dry.
4. Remove from the heat. Stir in the remaining onion, optional chilli and coriander. Spread the filling on a plate and allow it to cool.
5. Mix the flour with enough water to make a thick sealing paste.
6. Place a pastry strip on a clean surface. Put a small spoonful of filling near one end. Fold a corner diagonally over the filling to form a triangle, then keep folding the triangle along the strip. Follow the folding guide on the pastry packet if provided.
7. Spread a little flour paste on the final flap and press firmly to seal. Keep unused pastry covered with a slightly damp cloth while you work.
8. Heat oil over medium heat. Fry the samoosas in small batches for about 3-5 minutes, turning until golden and crisp. Drain on kitchen paper and serve warm.

Solly Mkhabela Foundation pledges four-year support for OFLFA league

Mkhabela during the media briefing at the Multipurpose Hall in Orange Farm

Orange Farm football clubs are set to receive trophies, medals, jerseys and prize money following a four-year sponsorship commitment by the Solly Mkhabela Foundation to the Orange Farm Local Football Association (OFLFA) Super League.

The pledge was announced during a media briefing at the City of Johannesburg Multipurpose Hall on Thursday, 29 October. Foundation representative, Solly Mkhabela, said in his presentation that the sponsorship followed concerns about players completing the nine-month competition without receiving recognition for their efforts.

Mkhabela encouraged unity among football stakeholders and called for greater participation in women's football.

OFLFA secretary Patrick Mokwena welcomed the commitment, saying the partnership would strengthen local football and create more opportunities for young players. The foundation said its support would continue for four years.
